9:00-9:45pm	Writing in a Time of Turbulence: These past months we have witnessed a particularly discordant and divisive election. As an engaged community, we recognize the very real ways this changing political landscape has left some among us feeling threatened. As a democratic community, we seek to respect our disparate perspectives. As a writing community, we will consider how we each find—and use—our voices in an era of discord, using Toni Morrison's words as a guide: "This is precisely the time when artists go to work...We speak, we write, we do language. That is how civilizations heal...Chaos contains information that can lead to knowledge—even wisdom. Like art."	College Hall Chapel
